United Airlines Sydney Office — Australia

Office & Location

United Airlines does not typically maintain a large public city storefront in Sydney; instead, the main local presence is tied to Sydney Kingsford Smith Airport (SYD), where airline counters provide passenger services on travel days. Most Sydney listings for a “United Airlines Sydney Office” point to the general airline contact in the Sydney, NSW 2020 area, with support handled through official customer service channels rather than a dedicated standalone office address. #### Airport Location (in-person services):

 Sydney Kingsford Smith Airport (SYD),
Mascot NSW 2020, Australia

 Airport Phone: +61 2 9667 9111 — general airport info that can direct you to United's counter. (FlightOfficeWorld)

There is no widely verified separate downtown United ticketing office published by United itself; listings that show a Sydney contact generally refer to liaison or backup numbers tied to reservations or airport support rather than an official physical office. (FlightOfficeWorld)

United at Sydney Kingsford Smith Airport (SYD)

United operates its international flights to and from Sydney from the international terminal at Sydney Airport. When traveling with United through SYD:

- Arrive early: For international departures, it's generally recommended to arrive at least 3 hours before your flight.
- Check-in counters: United's counters open several hours before departure and close sometime after flights have left — always check the latest flight info before you go.
- Flight status: You can check real-time flight times on United's website or directly via airport flight boards.

For airport facility details (lounges, security, immigration checkpoints, etc.), the airport's official site or terminal maps will be the most accurate source. (FlightOfficeWorld)
